CHIEF MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

The Norfolk Police Department is proud to introduce Chief Michael Goldsmith as Chief of Police effective June 12, 2012. Chief Goldsmith joined the Norfolk Police Department in February, 1989. Most recently he served as the Commanding Officer of the Administrative Services Bureau. In this role, he improved procedures to track recruit demographics to increase retention and provide a more efficient recruiting process. He also served as the Commanding Officer of the Homeland Security Division where he implemented the Department's anti-terrorism strategy to include the protection of critical infrastructure. He developed the Norfolk Harbor Patrol into the premier law enforcement entities of its kind in the state.

Chief Goldsmith has extensive leadership and command experience. He supervised investigative, patrol and tactical units throughout his 23 year career. He also managed patrol responses and critical incidents involving the Special Operations Team. Chief Goldsmith also served as the Commanding Officer of the Office of Professional Standards where he supervised all aspects of administrative investigations concerning police misconduct and citizen complaints.

Chief Goldsmith received several awards and commendations to include:

43rd Session Norfolk Police Academy Honor Graduate

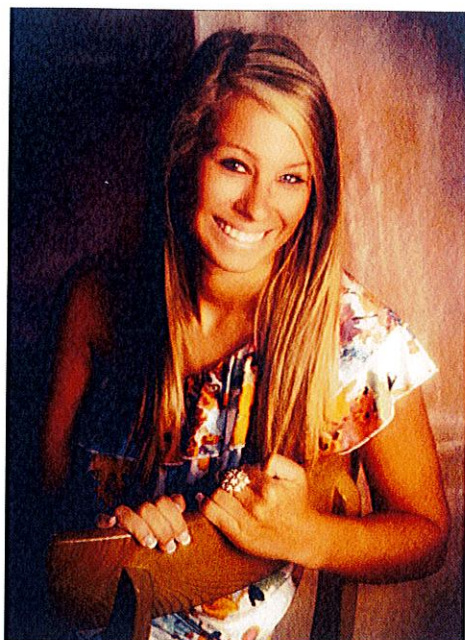

Department of Criminal Justice Services General Instructor and Firearms Instructor

Virginia Department of Emergency Management certified Advanced Incident Command System Instructor

CHANDLER MARIE PRICE

Chandler Marie Price was born and raised in Ocean View and attended Holy Trinity Catholic School until sixth grade. She and her mother, Tisha McCall relocated to the Outer Banks where Chandler graduated with honors from First Flight High School. She now attends the University of North Carolina in Wilmington for a B.S. in Social Work. Chandler is a devoted student who thrives on personal success and diverse learning experiences. This stems partly from her strong network of family in Norfolk that has always supported and encouraged her efforts. She is the first grandchild of Cheryl and Michael D. McCall (1949-1993). Even though Chandler was never able to know her Grandfather, she has always been aware of the sense of community and strong camaraderie that he left behind at his beloved Knights of Columbus. Mike proudly led the Parade as St. Patrick from 1988 -1991. Her Uncle, Jacob McCall now leads the Parade as St. Patrick, continuing the family tradition with an authentic joy his Dad would love to see. Chandler could not be more proud and honored to represent the McCall family as Princess Pat in the Parade this year. Her family is just as excited and believes that Mike will be smiling down.
